'This portfolio of certification fosters the leadership competencies needed for successful programmes, focusing on effective team-working, informed decision-making and a constant awareness of business and organisational drivers.'

Bob Hughes Project Management Consultant

Deliver change, create value

Implementing change smoothly and cost-effectively is critical to business success. And this means organisations need people with the skills and competencies to deliver projects successfully.

Whether they are managing activities, people or risk, today's project and programme managers have to balance a wide range of variables in order to consistently create value for the business.

Why choose our certification?

With our unique insight and independent experience in the industry, BCS, The Chartered Institute for IT, understands the challenges and complexities of successful project implementation. Our project and programme management certification provides comprehensive support for organisations and individuals around the world, in developing capability and maintaining knowledge and skills.

We provide a complete learning pathway for project management professionals, offering a route for progression and a means of validating skills and experience, at each stage in their career.

Our portfolio spans the many methodologies now widely used in business and covers the full range of skills needed for effective implementation. These include planning, monitoring and control, change and risk management – with a focus on the underlying importance of communication, both within the project team and between stakeholders.

Our portfolio comprises four key areas:

- Best Management Practice certification – PRINCE2®, PRINCE2 Agile®, MSP®, MoP®, MoV®, M_o_R®, P30®

We offer the full AXELOS suite of project and programme management certificates, bringing together principles, techniques and best practice, established and proven across sectors, both in the UK and beyond.

- BCS Project Management certification

BCS project management certification is dedicated to those working in IT, and also complements PRINCE2; holders of PRINCE2 Practitioner take a shorter course to achieve the BCS Higher Certificate in IS Project Management.

- BCS Programme and Project Support Office certification

Support roles are pivotal in their contribution to programme and project management. Our certification in this area is developed from the support team's perspective and underlines the status and professionalism of PPSO staff.

- BCS Agile certification

Offering the most comprehensive agile curriculum in the market, with flexible methods of study, our agile certification programme supports the whole organisation in making an agile transformation that delivers results straight away.

Supporting your career journey

Career progression is about more than certification. We support project and programme professionals throughout their careers, helping them to demonstrate, maintain and develop their competencies and knowledge.

We provide Associate (AMBCS) membership of the Institute to successful certification candidates, placing them on the path to Chartered IT Professional (CITP) status. Our Project Management and Agile specialist groups offer access to like-minded individuals and the latest thinking.

SFIAplus, our IT skills framework, and our dedicated career paths help you identify your current skill levels and next steps, while our innovative CPD portal enables you to track your progression.
